QUESTIONS (There is no length requirement and your answers will help us compile data)

1. The mission of the Nonviolence Education Institute (NEI) is to bring educators and school personnel together, as fellows, to reflect and engage in the practice of nonviolence for the purpose of building and sustaining a positive school community. What in the previous mission statement appeals to you?
2. What led you to your present career choice?
3. Briefly describe your approach to building relationships in your school, both with students and staff. How do you think nonviolence could help you in making these relationships stronger?

Applications are due by July 8, 2011
